

In designing the turbine we found and out many things that help, either big or small changes help. There is the Blade pitch, Blade cord, and Blade span, each when small or big changes will affect how well your design works.